Dear Parents

Just a short letter this week, nothing much changes at the moment!

It's looking to be a chilly but dry weekend. I hope that you all manage to get out and enjoy some fresh air. We are noticing some signs of spring around the school flower containers and beds, and the days are definitely getting longer. Spring IS on its way!

REMOTE LEARNING

One more week until half term now. We will not be setting any homework at all for that week, everyone needs a rest and hopefully a chance to re-charge the batteries.

Please don't forget to include some relaxing activities in your daily routine: colouring, drawing, cooking, etc

Take care everyone and hang in there!
